OUTSTANDING IN EVERY RESPECT

Through our products, we make an important contribution to the health and well-being of people in offices. Technical perfection, uncompromising quality, design you can experience with all your senses and the careful handling of all resources are what characterise every Interstuhl product. People are our reference point for everything we do. Our aim is still to offer the best possible solution to our customers' requirements.

We firmly believe that products can only truly be good if they are produced well. At the beginning of the 1990s, the first binding guidelines were put into place, which continue to be expanded on to this day. In doing so, we commit ourselves to maintaining strict compliance with statutory requirements. Our many awards are testament to this.

SUSTAINABILITY

Today, an unspoilt, clean environment and low energy consumption constitute the most elementary expression of quality of life and an intelligent philosophy for business and for life. This realisation forms the basis of our work and the foundation of our actions. This also includes treating the earth's ecosystem, its resources and natural cycles in a manner that is both respectful and justifiable in the long term. Interstuhl has long since recognised the importance of this topic and is always working to further embed sustainable principles within the company. Environmental awareness is an essential part of our corporate philosophy. We take care to ensure that all products and production methods are environmentally friendly.

QUALITY AND DURABILITY

Long-lasting quality is also an important factor in terms of the ecological and economic environmental impact. Products that last longer reduce the consumption of new raw materials. This conserves natural resources and reduces the environmental harm caused by depleting resources and manufacturing new materials. Products need to be replaced less frequently, which means less waste and more cost savings for our customers. That's why all our products come with an extra-long guarantee of ten years.

Visit our sustainability page for more detailed information on this topic.

DESIGN

Aesthetics means more to us than just outstanding design. Our aim is to develop design that you can experience with all your senses – a comprehensive, innovative and technically appealing experience. This goes just as much for every last detail of our products, as it does for the furnishing of entire rooms. We are proud that many of our products have even won awards for their design.

GENERAL TERMS OF BUSINESS

1. General information

1.1 Our terms and conditions of payment and sale apply to all goods and services. Other conditions, e.g. customer terms of purchase, will only then become components of the contract if this is expressly agreed in writing. If the customer is a merchant or a legal entity under public law or a special fund under public law, our terms and conditions of payment and sale apply to all future transactions.

2. Contents of the contract

2.1 All information in catalogues, price lists or order proposals is non-binding. Only the terms agreed for a specific order are binding. Terms for an order are only considered binding once we have accepted the order from the customer (order confirmation). Suggestions we have made regarding an order only become binding after the order has been placed and confirmed.

2.2 Custom-made products are items that are not mass-produced or are not included in the price lists. This also applies to colour schemes.

2.3 The formation of a contract is subject to correct self-delivery. This does not apply if we are responsible for the missing or incorrect delivery, particularly if we have not carried out a congruent hedging transaction. We shall inform the customer immediately of any unavailable items and will refund any payments made without delay.

3. Prices

3.1 We shall quote our prices to merchants, legal entities under public law and public law special funds as gross prices minus discounts, plus the applicable statutory value-added tax, excluding packaging, transport costs, assembly and insurance. If there are more than four months between the formation of the contract and the delivery date, we are entitled to charge the price valid upon delivery.

3.2 For entrepreneurs and in the case of successive delivery contracts, we charge the current price valid on the day of delivery.

4. Transfer of risk

4.1 Our deliveries are carried out via FCA, Tieringen – INCOTERMS 2020, insofar as no other arrangement has been agreed upon.

4.2 If shipment is delayed as a result of circumstances for which the customer is responsible, the risk is transferred to the customer from the day on which the delivery is ready to be shipped. In this case, we are entitled to store goods at the customer's expense and risk at our discretion and to request payment of the agreed price.

4.3 Customer claims as a result of a defect in the delivery must be based on immediate examination of the goods and notification of the defect after delivery – within seven working days at the latest – in the case of a recognisable defect. In the case of an invisible defect, notification must take place within this same period after the defect is discovered.

5. Delivery

5.1 If a date or time period is stated in or can be determined from the contractual documents for deliveries, e.g. a specific calendar week, this is when the delivery is due. The customer must ensure that the delivery can be received at least during normal business hours. For lead times or deadlines that must not be exceeded under any circumstances (fixed deadlines), this must be expressly agreed in a way that cannot be misconstrued.

5.2 If, due to force majeure, operational disruptions, strikes, lockouts, war, disasters and/or official interventions or orders, we are prevented from making the delivery and/or providing the service, we are entitled either to withdraw from the contract or to provide the agreed service as soon as possible after these obstacles are removed. There will be no compensation for damages in these cases. We reserve the right to not make a delivery where the credit rating is insufficient or not provided.

5.3 The customer shall be responsible for bringing the goods to the place of use and for unpacking and setting them up. However, if the goods are to be conveyed by us to the customer, we are entitled to request payment for the work involved in providing this additional service.

5.4 Call orders are limited to a maximum of one year; during this time all deliveries must be accepted; the minimum recall period is one month.

6. Payments

6.1 Unless otherwise agreed, payments are due immediately and must be paid 30 days after the invoice date at the latest, without any deductions. Payment terms do not postpone the due date, but rather the latest possible payment date according to the calendar. If the payment is received within 10 days of the invoice date, we shall apply a 2% discount.

6.2 Bills of exchange and cheques will only be accepted if agreed upon, and only as conditional payment. If a cheque or bill of exchange is lost, we are not obliged to continue seeking payment from the document. Discount and bill of exchange charges and other costs are to be paid by our customer and must be settled in advance. Cheques will not be accepted as cash payment.

6.3 We have legal claims in the event of late payment.

6.4 The customer will only be entitled to offset if their counterclaim has been legally established or is undisputed. This ban on offsetting does not apply to counterclaims due to a defect based on the same contractual relationship as our claim. The customer is only entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as their counterclaim is based on the same contractual relationship.

7. Retention of title

7.1 We retain the title to the goods until full payment has been received for all claims, including future claims, arising from the entire business relationship, including all ancillary claims. If there is an open account, the retained title acts as security for balance claims.

7.2 The customer is permitted to resell goods owned or co-owned by us in the ordinary course of business. The customer hereby assigns to us all claims against their customers arising from the resale; we hereby receive this assignment.

7.3 The customer remains authorised to collect claims assigned to us. The customer must immediately inform us of any third-party access to our retained-ownership goods or to a claim assigned to us, particularly any attachments. The costs of any required interventions are payable by the customer. 7.4 We undertake to release goods to which the title has been retained, as well as assigned claims in accordance with Section 7.2, if the realisable value of the collateral exceeds 110% of the secured claim. This release shall be carried out via transfer of ownership or reassignment.

8. Material defects

8.1 If the goods delivered are defective, we will choose whether to remedy the defects or send a replacement.

8.2 Defects do not include technologically justified differences in dimensions or shape, laminate colour, material colour, or the colour and texture of the real wood veneer.

8.3 The customer undertakes to allow us access to the goods about which a complaint is being raised.

8.4 If deliveries are to be based on drawings or other information provided by the customer, we shall follow these instructions if they are technically feasible. We will not check whether they are feasible until a special order is placed.

8.5 The customer assumes liability that their commissioned order does not infringe upon the rights of any third parties. The customer's statutory rights of recourse against us only exist insofar as the customer has not entered into any agreements with their own customer which go beyond the statutory claims for defects.

9. Other claims, liability

9.1 Insofar as this is not contradicted below, there may be no other, ongoing claims by the customer against us. This particularly applies to claims to compensation due to breach of contractual duties and tort. We are therefore not liable for damages not incurred to the delivered goods themselves. Most notably, we are not liable for loss of profits or other damage to the customer's assets.

9.2 The above limitations of liability do not apply in the event of malicious intent, gross negligence on the part of our legal representatives or senior employees or culpable breach of material contractual obligations. In the event of culpable breach of material contractual obligations, we are only liable for typical, reasonably foreseeable damage, except in the case of malicious intent or gross negligence by our legal representatives or senior employees.

9.3 These limitations of liability also do not apply in the event that liability is assumed under the Product Liability Act for personal injury or material damage to objects for private use in the event of defects in the delivered goods. It shall also not apply in the event of loss of life, physical injury or damage to health and in the event that a guaranteed quality is lacking.

9.4 Insofar as we have no or limited liability, this also applies for the personal liability of our employees, workers, colleagues, legal representatives and subcontractors.

9.5 This does not affect the statutory regulations regarding burden of proof.

10. Limitation period on claims for defects and damages

10.1 The limitation period for customer claims due to defective goods is one year. This does not apply if a longer period is provided for in accordance with Section 438(1) No. 2 (buildings, objects used in buildings), Section 479(1) (recourse claims) or Section 634(1) No. 2 (construction defects) of the German Civil Code. This also does not apply to claims to compensation which are based on compensation for bodily injury or damage to health, or on malicious intent or gross negligence on our part or on the part of our subcontractors.

10.2 The limitation period for customer compensation claims which do not relate to defective goods is one year. This does not affect the limitation period of claims due to malicious intent or gross negligence as well as bodily injury or damage to health and due to the Product Liability Act.

11. Documents and samples

11.1 We reserve all intellectual property rights and copyrights for cost proposals, drawings, images, sketches and other documents and samples; the documents must be sent back to us upon request and must not be passed on to third parties, even as a copy.

11.2 Samples must be returned to us or purchased within a month unless otherwise agreed. Samples for custom-made products must be purchased by the customer and may not be exchanged.

12. Place of jurisdiction, applicable law

12.1 It is hereby agreed that German law will apply.

12.2 For all legal disputes, including in the context of processes for bills of exchange or cheques, our head office is the place of jurisdiction if the customer is a merchant, a legal entity under public law or a special fund under public law. We are also entitled to sue at the customer's place of business.

13. Data protection

13.1. The personal and company-related data of our customers is stored and processed in compliance with the EU Data Protection Regulation (EU-DSGVO).

number after the minimum order details. Options example: 172H/ER01 – 8010/601/703. Please use our order forms.

We cannot be held liable for the use of incorrect castors or glides.

Custom-made products

Interstuhl can only provide its exceptionally reasonable price-performance ratio by using rational production. Please clarify any special requests with us. When using customer fabrics or customer leather, the usability of the cover materials must be checked using the provided sample before the order can be accepted. We generally assume a minimum width of 1.40 m for cover fabrics provided. It is essential that you provide us with processing instructions (particularly the direction of the upholstery as well as the front and back). We will gladly send you a form to fill in to this end. The order shall only be entered and confirmed after the cover materials have been checked for usability.

Return and disposal

Interstuhl will be happy to assist, upon request, in disposing of products in an environmentally friendly manner. Any transport costs that may arise as a result of this are payable by the customer.
