Design House Stockholm

The publishing house for Scandinavian design — a catalyst for creativity. Our vision is to bring great ideas to life and make them accessible to everyone. We explore, refine and push the boundaries for the natural resource Scandinavian design. This is our homage to creativity. The term 'Scandinavian' refers to a philosophic and aesthetic perspective, rather than geography and nationality.

We distinguish ourselves as a publishing house, rather than a conventional producer. Since 1992 we have been inviting new and upcoming as well as established designers, and knowledgeable manufacturers, to collaborate with Design House Stockholm. By being curious and listening, we explore and curate the most innovative Scandinavian design.

Our products' reason for being is always about function and details, where our principles for sustainability permeates the whole business – longevity over generations in products, materials, and production as well as in our sales, client and supplier relations. In collaboration with our skilled producers and designers, we push the boundaries for the concept of design. It's in the team's collective knowledge where the moment of creative magnetism arises.

Design House Stockholm is all about quality and timelessness, yet personality and attitude – design with a quest for an inner spirit, not just outer shapes. Our design can be unexpected and challenging, it can arouse surprise, but will always create a sense of excellence in the midst of the everyday life. We call it contemporary design poetry.

LAYER SIDEBORD Layer by Mathieu Gustafsson presents a subtle play with geometries, all in a single piece of furniture. Not entirely open, not completely closed. Is it a little gnome peeping out, or is it a valuable piece of ceramics? The exact form and the exposed grain of the oak veneer set in horizontal and vertical patterns shape a distinct elegance with a minimalist take. And sure enough, there will always be a need to hide away kitchenware, treasured books, and valuables. Layer transforms otherwise simple storage into a valuable cabinet endowed with a distinct character. The graphic expression will grant a precious addition to a home, an office, a hotel lobby, and a restaurant. Layer has been meticulously crafted with a penchant for voluminosity, dynamics, and rhythm. No handles cluttering the surface, just use the small openings to slide it open or shut.

'It is quite a minimalistic design,' admits Mathieu Gustafsson, 'but if the form is reduced, the sliced veneer and its placement does accentuate surfaces and directions. The half-closed slots give a hint on what is inside.'

Revealing and hiding, Layer excels in exact proportions with the whole structure built out of massive oak. In a time of incessant digital browsing, this is a truly analog design calling out for the real world. With clean lines, lightness, and solidity, Layer is both an homage to the past and a leap into the future. By reinterpreting a known typology, Mathieu Gustafsson manages to create a contemporary yet timeless sensibility.

'What is in my cabinet at home? I try to reduce the clutter, but I have lots of models and prototypes that I want to keep but are better stowed away. And every time I go back to France I shop for antique French ceramics and rare advertising objects like a clock in the shape of a Bayonne ham that would sit on top of a butcher's shelf. The openings will trigger your curiosity to explore what is inside.'

Layer is a distant cousin to Mathieu Gustafsson's earlier cabinet Air and amplify Design House Stockholm's offer of storage with a distinctive design character. 'You need beautiful cabinets to store your porcelain, linen, books,' says Anders Färdig, founder of Design House Stockholm. 'It is a furniture piece that will give a distinct uniqueness to any room. Layer can stand all by itself with its back exposed at home, in an office, as well as in any public place.'

TOCK TABLE Sit alone. In company. Have a rendez-vous, a tête-à-tête. Tock by Anna Kraitz is setting a stage. Cups will appear, glasses will gather, coffee will be sipped, drinks savoured, cakes shared, oysters devoured. A table creating a sanctuary in the middle of the bustling life of the city or a meeting place in the village. Notebooks show up to capture thoughts and dreams; drawings appear, cards awaiting to be played, books to be read, phones browsed. Tock waits sombrely for life to appear solitary or in company. And don't we live in the attention of others?

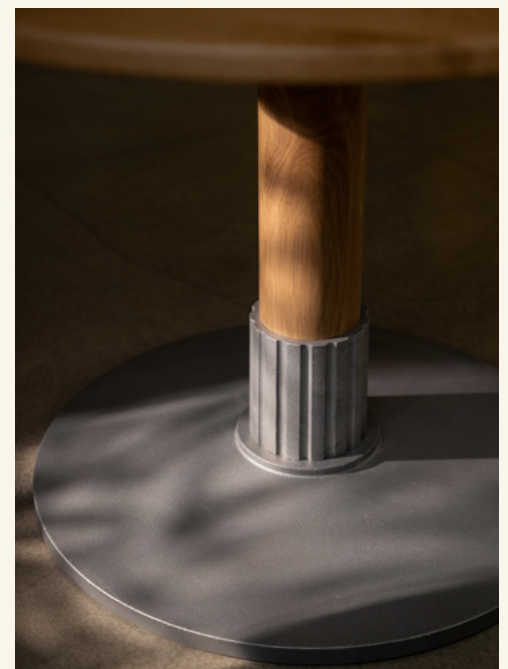

Cleaned of all clutter, and then once again occupied, Tock is ready for any type of occasion, mundane or festive. The perfect companion for the Olivia chair by Tatu Laakso, and voilà Tock offers a stage for debate, passion, friendship, and curiosity, as well as new flavors, ideas, and convivial meetings. The circular shape is intentional; it is an invitation to gather together, to get close, not looking sideways but deep into each other's eyes. A perfect form that celebrates sensory materiality creating community. The top is all massive dark oak reinforced with steel bars that will ensure the integrity of the top that will stand the passage of time. And then that special aluminum base anchoring Tock to the ground. Wood married to metal, the top sleek and inviting, the base sturdy and resistant. But more than that: the knurled insert embracing the pillar is an ornament in itself. A function all exposed and reminiscent of industrial mechanics.

'I've always been fascinated by cogwheels,' says Anna Kraitz stroking the base, 'Tock is a reminder of a café or a bistro in Paris, or anywhere in central and southern Europe, and also of Charlie Chaplin's Modern Times where that opposition between man and machine turns into an aesthetic.'

Made in solid oak with its ponderous aluminum base, Tock finds itself at ease at home as well as in a café, a restaurant, a hotel lobby, indoors or outdoors. The particular base is made out of recycled sand casted aluminum, with the brushed surface yielding a hazy mirror to reflect legs and shoes, and possibly a resting place for a dog or a cat. Six small adjustable feet let the table stay firm. A rectangular version will be available on request.

'Anna Kraitz adds character replacing old-time cast iron ornamental feet with a modern touch,' says Anders Färdig, founder of Design House Stockholm, 'The solid tabletop and Anna's eye-catching base cast in recycled aluminum vouch for a future design classic.'

Anna Kraitz is considered one of the most significant contemporary designers in Sweden. Straddling the fine line between art and design, she brings about a subtle aesthetic sensibility. After studying in Hungary and at the Pernby School of Painting, she graduated from Beckmans College of Design in 1999 and has since worked as a furniture and product designer as well as running her own label.

HYDRAULIC VASE XL Isa Andersson's Hydraulic Vase is a fusion of form and force. A slender tube of stainless steel exposed to tremendous pressure deforming the base into a sculpture. A vase fusing function with form, each example displaying a unique expression. Hard and soft at the same time, rough and sensuous and shaped in just one material. Hydraulic will happily expose flowers of all kinds, or just as a solitary vase in all its glory. Available in two sizes, the new XL-version sports a diameter of 14 centimeters and a height of 34.

During her master studies at Konstfack, Stockholm University of Arts, Crafts, and Design, Isa Andersson became mesmerized by the malleability of steel. "I became fascinated by all the videos showing what you can do with Hydraulic presses," Isa Andersson recalls. "Usually, you extract ball bearings, but you can do anything!" Together with fellow student Johan Krantz, they toured auto repair shops all over Stockholm searching for tougher equipment than the school could offer. 'They recognized our need for a stronger press, but we had a hard time to explain our quest.' Once they got onboard, the difficulty stood in how to preserve the form and control the deformation of the base. "It's a challenging process; you have to be skilled in mathematics. If you change the thickness of the material by just a millimeter, then you have to recalculate the entire process before you dare apply pressure."

Isa Andersson's design is a true solitaire that will amplify the contrast between man-made form and nature's blooming bouquets. 'I wanted to keep the rough feeling with this almost melted base, while at the same time enhance the contrast between hard and soft,' says Isa Andersson. Hydraulic presents a unified yet artistically transformed shape with a strong narrative. The substantial weight of the vase ensures it stands securely, and it will adorn any space whether filled with flowers or not. Use Hydraulic to showcase decorative arrangements or allow it to shine on its own merits.

Notwithstanding her education as a designer, Isa Andersson chooses to identify as an artist. Her work frequently explores the contrasts between fragile and rigidly strong materials. A mallet of glass with spikes of rusty steel, a key sharpened into a knife: soft and hard in unconventional embraces, a questioning of social structures and the spaces our bodies inhabit. 'As an artist, you have greater aesthetic freedom than as a designer', she asserts. 'My aim is to present a sharp and precise visual language that challenges conventions of beauty, aggression, and identity.'

Basket Rug

DESIGN: Lena Bergström PUBLISHED: 2018 DESCRIPTION: Sharp angles and soft transitions play the roles in a shadow play that is both illusion and reality. The unique handicraft and techniques of weaving and cutting creates a trompe l'œil of those traditions. It comes in four sizes but can be customized as a special order in other sizes. MATERIAL: Handtufted carpet 100% wool, cotton backing. CARE: Vacuum clean regularly to remove particles in the wool. Spots can be removed using a clean cloth with lukewarm water. Do not allow the wool to become soaked. We recommend using a qualified rug specialist for cleaning. Björk Rug

DESIGN: Lena Bergström PUBLISHED: 2009 DESCRIPTION: Lena Bergström's Björk collection is based on the natural shifting tones of wool. The expression in the woven structure is inspired by the black and white trunk of the birch tree ('Björk' in Swedish) and the leather represents the inside of the bark. The Björk collection is based on a weft in wool, combined with details in leather. Wool is known not only for its softness, but also for its built-in resistance to soiling thanks to its natural oils. All Björk products are hand-woven pieces of handicraft, making every product unique.

MATERIAL: 100% wool with leather edging. CARE: When cleaning the rug we recommend using a qualified rug specialist. Small stains on wool may be removed with water. If creases appear, steam the rug with steam iron while flat. MADE IN: India.

Pleece Collection

Pleece Collection

DESIGN: Marianne Abellsson PUBLISHED: 1997 DESCRIPTION: Fashion fades, only style remains the same. Created in 1997 by Marianne Abellsson, the Pleece collection has changed very little over the years. Some models have been added. The colours change slightly as the seasons come and go. But it's still based on the same timeless simplicity and quality that never goes out of style. The fabric is still pleated in Borås, Sweden. And it is still one of Design House Stockholm's best selling products, sold in MoMA Store, New York, for 15 years. MATERIAL: The Pleece collection is made by a unique blend of 75% polyester and 25% viscose, that sets it apart from other fleece fabrics. Also, the pleating process gives the fleece extra volume and softness. Suitable for both men and women, for indoor and outdoor use alike. OTHER INFORMATION: Wash cold (40°C) with similar colours, dry flat. The textile retains its pleating after washing. When worn and washed, pilling may occur. MADE IN: Sweden.

Collaborations

Astrid Lindgren & Elsa Beskow

Design House Stockholm collaborates on an exciting project with its roots in the world of literature. In collaboration with Astrid Lindgren AB, Astrid Lindgren's thoughtful words are now being launched on a series of colourful ceramic mugs. Astrid's words are engraved on the mugs in the collection. No other author has so many quotations that resonate with so many people, generation after generation. Some of the quotations can be recognised from Astrid's well-loved characters, while others are her own. To add an element of surprise, the different characters the quotes belong to are featured inside the mugs. You might be thinking a mug is just a mug, but these mugs are messengers that carry Astrid's warmth and wisdom.

A collaborative venture involving Elsa Beskow's estate, publishing house Bonniers and Design House Stockholm. The endearing stories by the children's book author and illustrator Elsa Beskow have been interpreted by Catharina Kippel, a designer who has worked with Design House Stockholm right from the beginning. Using visual quotations from Elsa Beskow's works Catharina stresses the humour with which Elsa so typically portrays people and nature.
